

RESEARCH INSTITUTE FOR MICROBIAL DISEASES
OSAKA UNIVERSITY
OSAKA, JAPAN

June 26, 1953

Dr. J. Lederberg
Department of Genetics
College of Agriculture
University of Wisconsin
Madison, Wisconsin
U. S. A.

Dear Dr. Lederberg:

Please excuse me to write this letter after a long silence, because I am very glad to inform you that I had a position in Sonneborn's laboratory, Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana. As you suggested to me, I can say that he was kindly interested in my work on the antigenic variation in Trypanosoma gambiense.

Now I am very happy to be able to have a good opportunity for my further studies on the cytoplasmic inheritance of protozoa. Before anything, therefore, I should be very grateful to your kind suggestion.

According to my plan, I shall start here at the beginning of September and arrive to Bloomington by 1st of October. When I shall have arrived there, I shall be very glad to see you and to discuss about cytoplasmic inheritance. If you would kindly manage to make an opportunity for seeing you, I should be very much thankful to you.

With best wishes,

Very truly yours,

Shozo Inoki
Shozo Inoki, M.D.
Associate Professor
Department of Parasitology
Chief of the Division of Protozoology